Fourth Annual Rutgers Translate-a-thon

Do you speak, or are you learning, a non-English language? Join us for the fourth annual Translate-a-thon on Friday, February 25th, 2022!

There will be translation/interpretation projects, workshops, and showcases in English, Chinese, French, Spanish, Korean, Russian, and more. Refreshments provided throughout the day; all participants will be entered in a raffle for translation-related prizes!

This year's event includes both in-person and online projects. Proof of vaccination or recent negative PCR test required for in-person attendance. Find further details on our website <http://sites.rutgers.edu/translate-a-thon> and use the QR code below to enroll in the dedicated Canvas site.

SPONSORS: The Center for European Studies, the Program in Comparative Literature, the Language Center, the Rutgers English Language Institute/Rutgers Writing Program, the Spanish/Portuguese Translation Program, and the Departments of Spanish & Portuguese, GREELL, History, English, French, AMESALL, and Asian Languages & Cultures.
